On a morning in January, we went out in the garden to observe the colors of the sky and trees during the winter season...

Conversation,
looking at the sky...

- Teacher (T): LOOKING AT THE SKY ... HOW IS IT IN THIS SEASON?
- CHRISTIAN: IT'S WHITE
- ANTONIO: IT'S NOT ALL WHITE
- MATILDA: THE TREES ARE ALL BROWN
- ANNA LUCIA: A LITTLE BLUE AND WHITE
- GIOVANNI: GRAY
- JACOPO V .: IT'S A LITTLE BLUE AND SO MUCH GRAY
- SOFIA: IT IS WHITE
- FRANCESCO: I SEE THE SKY, THERE IS A THING THAT IS NOT MOVING, THE CLOUDS ARE STILL AND IMMOVABLE, THE SUN IS COMING OUT SLOWLY
- RAMZI: THERE IS A LITTLE BLUE AND LITTLE TREES ARE BARE
- INS: WHAT DOES IT MEAN THAT THE TREES ARE BARE?
- RAMZI: BECAUSE THERE ARE NO LEAVES BECAUSE OF THE WIND, THEY FALL ON THE GROUND
- MATTEO: BARE BECAUSE THEY DON'T HAVE CLOTHES, THEY DON'T HAVE LEAVES NOW
- ANTONIO: BECAUSE THE WIND BRING THEM AWAY

AFTER THE OBSERVATION OF THE SKY AND THE GARDEN TREES, EVERY CHILD TRIED TO REPRESENT WHAT THEY HAD OBSERVED:

5 years old class

During a walk...in a cold and sunny day

We realised that ...

..the leaves of the dit and the meadow are: green brown white ... iced, wet, cold, balmy...

...the meadow between trees is: green, a little white, the grass is wet, because we had wet shoes...

The sound of the leaves...

On the foggy way
